

NESLP

What To Expect

From APPLICATION TO AWARD:

NOTE: Subject to continuing legislative appropriations, recipients are selected annually from North Carolina colleges and universities offering nursing education programs.

Applicants must apply through the financial aid office at one of the respective institutions. Recipients are selected based on merit and financial need and must sign a promissory note.

A recipient must enroll at least half-time for the fall and/or spring semester funds are received. The scholarship/loan is renewable contingent upon appropriations made available to the State Education Assistance Authority by the General Assembly.

If you receive an NESLP award packet, you must do the following:

- Review the packet which includes a cover letter, promissory note, and disclosure statement.
- Follow the procedures outlined for the proper execution of your promissory note.
- Complete and return the required materials: Promissory Note and Disclosure Statement.

Promissory Note: Your contract with the State. Funds cannot be ordered until the properly executed Promissory Note is received in the program office.

Fund disbursement: Disbursements are made bi-annually; fall and spring. Funds are usually sent at the beginning of the semester. Funds are electronically transmitted to your institution. Financial aid departments must process the funds as well and funds are not available before the first day of the semester. Remember to keep your contact information current. It is the applicant's responsibility to provide up-to-date information.
